Detroit, MI. “We are very pleased to be among Metro Detroit’s 101 Best and Brightest for the third year in a row,” says Patrick Kapusta, MTU Detroit Diesel’s Senior Manager, Human Resources. “Given the economic climate and regional expansion our company has been preparing for over the past year, I see this award as a strong testimonial to the company’s commitment to its employees.”

This year’s competition included over 1,000 employee nominations representing 367 companies. Winning companies were determined by the results of independent research that evaluated each company in the following categories: communication, community initiatives, compensation and benefits, diversity and multiculturalism, employee education and development, employee engagement and commitment, recognition and retention, small business, recruitment and selection, and work-life balance.

An important element of this research was a confidential survey that was administered via email to randomly selected employees about their work environment.

“To continue to receive very positive feedback from employees, even in uncertain economic times, is what I am most proud of,” says Kapusta. “Our employees are our most important resource and it is their commitment to the company that allows us to set standards in our industry. It is only appropriate that our human resource programs and benefits set standards as well.”

MTU Detroit Diesel is currently hiring for a select number of positions in both its Detroit, MI and Aiken, SC facilities. For a complete list of career opportunities, please visit www.mtudetroidieselpcareers.com.
